

FIND COMMUNITY

SING LOUD

WELCOME ALL

MAKE MUSIC LEARN THE OLD SONGS

Thursdays in April
April 3, April 10, April 17
7-9 PM, doors open at 6:30

Georgia Center for Nonprofits
Entrance on Chester Ave, just south of
Memorial Dr in the Reynoldstown
neighborhood of Atlanta.

Join us for a three-night participatory workshop on sacred harp singing. We'll learn traditional songs, build musical confidence, and connect through this shared experience and passion for singing.

Free and open to anyone. Beginners and the "just curious" are welcome. No expectation of skill or experience. Loaner tune-books available.

atlantasacredharp.org/events/singingschool2025.html

FIND COMMUNITY

SING LOUD

WELCOME ALL

MAKE MUSIC LEARN THE OLD SONGS

Thursdays in April
April 3, April 10, April 17
7-9 PM, doors open at 6:30

Georgia Center for Nonprofits
Entrance on Chester Ave, just south of
Memorial Dr in the Reynoldstown
neighborhood of Atlanta.

Join us for a three-night participatory workshop on sacred harp singing. We'll learn traditional songs, build musical confidence, and connect through this shared experience and passion for singing.

Free and open to anyone. Beginners and the "just curious" are welcome. No expectation of skill or experience. Loaner tune-books available.

atlantasacredharp.org/events/singingschool2025.html

FIND COMMUNITY

SING LOUD

WELCOME ALL

MAKE MUSIC LEARN THE OLD SONGS

Thursdays in April
April 3, April 10, April 17
7-9 PM, doors open at 6:30

Georgia Center for Nonprofits
Entrance on Chester Ave, just south of
Memorial Dr in the Reynoldstown
neighborhood of Atlanta.

Join us for a three-night participatory workshop on sacred harp singing. We'll learn traditional songs, build musical confidence, and connect through this shared experience and passion for singing.

Free and open to anyone. Beginners and the "just curious" are welcome. No expectation of skill or experience. Loaner tune-books available.

atlantasacredharp.org/events/singingschool2025.html

FIND COMMUNITY

SING LOUD

WELCOME ALL

MAKE MUSIC LEARN THE OLD SONGS

Thursdays in April
April 3, April 10, April 17
7-9 PM, doors open at 6:30

Georgia Center for Nonprofits
Entrance on Chester Ave, just south of
Memorial Dr in the Reynoldstown
neighborhood of Atlanta.

Join us for a three-night participatory workshop on sacred harp singing. We'll learn traditional songs, build musical confidence, and connect through this shared experience and passion for singing.

Free and open to anyone. Beginners and the "just curious" are welcome. No expectation of skill or experience. Loaner tune-books available.

atlantasacredharp.org/events/singingschool2025.html

This three-night participatory workshop is for all those interested in learning to sing in a friendly, non-performance environment. No prior musical experience or skill set is needed. Just bring your voice! You'll learn the basics of melody and harmony singing, get practice reading music using traditional shape note symbols, and discover a rich body of American folk hymns.

We'll delve into the music of The Sacred Harp, a tunebook first published in the 1840s and still in print today. Sacred Harp songs are known for their distinctive, haunting harmonies and powerful expression, and have influenced classic artists like the Carter Family, and contemporary practitioners like T Bone Burnett, Bonnie "Prince" Billy, and Sam Amidon. Each class is taught by an experienced shape note singer.

You can come for all three sessions or join at any point. Come learn a deep American musical tradition, build confidence, and connect with others through a shared passion for singing!

This three-night participatory workshop is for all those interested in learning to sing in a friendly, non-performance environment. No prior musical experience or skill set is needed. Just bring your voice! You'll learn the basics of melody and harmony singing, get practice reading music using traditional shape note symbols, and discover a rich body of American folk hymns.

We'll delve into the music of The Sacred Harp, a tunebook first published in the 1840s and still in print today. Sacred Harp songs are known for their distinctive, haunting harmonies and powerful expression, and have influenced classic artists like the Carter Family, and contemporary practitioners like T Bone Burnett, Bonnie "Prince" Billy, and Sam Amidon. Each class is taught by an experienced shape note singer.

You can come for all three sessions or join at any point. Come learn a deep American musical tradition, build confidence, and connect with others through a shared passion for singing!

This three-night participatory workshop is for all those interested in learning to sing in a friendly, non-performance environment. No prior musical experience or skill set is needed. Just bring your voice! You'll learn the basics of melody and harmony singing, get practice reading music using traditional shape note symbols, and discover a rich body of American folk hymns.

We'll delve into the music of The Sacred Harp, a tunebook first published in the 1840s and still in print today. Sacred Harp songs are known for their distinctive, haunting harmonies and powerful expression, and have influenced classic artists like the Carter Family, and contemporary practitioners like T Bone Burnett, Bonnie "Prince" Billy, and Sam Amidon. Each class is taught by an experienced shape note singer.

You can come for all three sessions or join at any point. Come learn a deep American musical tradition, build confidence, and connect with others through a shared passion for singing!

This three-night participatory workshop is for all those interested in learning to sing in a friendly, non-performance environment. No prior musical experience or skill set is needed. Just bring your voice! You'll learn the basics of melody and harmony singing, get practice reading music using traditional shape note symbols, and discover a rich body of American folk hymns.

We'll delve into the music of The Sacred Harp, a tunebook first published in the 1840s and still in print today. Sacred Harp songs are known for their distinctive, haunting harmonies and powerful expression, and have influenced classic artists like the Carter Family, and contemporary practitioners like T Bone Burnett, Bonnie "Prince" Billy, and Sam Amidon. Each class is taught by an experienced shape note singer.

You can come for all three sessions or join at any point. Come learn a deep American musical tradition, build confidence, and connect with others through a shared passion for singing!